| ARCHCareers 51 Too late in life to become an architect
April 17th, 2019 - The question is your commitment for the field and situation in life elevations and with notebook paper I took CAD in high school. Then I went into the military programs and start the architect diploma after the 12 months. I believe you older people should also think of doing a mddop course for starter. That should give you the edge. |
