the league of nations came into being after the end of World War One. The league's task was simple: to ensure that war never broke out again after the turmoil caused by the Treaty of Versailles. Many looked to the league to bring stability to the world. America entered World War One in 1917, and the country, as a whole, and its President, Woodrow Wilson in particular, was a strong supporter of the league.

The French government acquired Karaikal in 1674 and held control with occasional interruption from the British and Dutch until 1954. De jure, in 1956, when it was incorporated into the Indian Union, the Union Territory of Puducherry.
